with the opening of a new office in San Francisco

November 2014: Amaris expands its presence in the North-American market with the opening of a new office in Campbell (CA) in the San Francisco Region.

For the sixth time in 2014, Amaris celebrates a new expansion. This time, the consulting Group in Management and Technologies gives a strong blow with the opening of an office in the USA.

Earlier this year, Amaris established offices in Turkey, Greece, Italy, Ireland and Vietnam, and now takes the next step with its North American operations by extending its scope of action from one end of the world to the other.

Campbell (CA) will indeed host the company's new offices on the west coasts of the country.

In addition to being hubs for economic development, the city is the cradle of world-renowned biotechnology, pharmaceutical and high-tech innovation companies.

As a company at the cutting edge of technology, Amaris relies on this prolific breeding ground to propose its innovative solutions to existing and new customers, notably in the highly competitive biotechnology industry.

Amaris will take advantage of its new locations to provide local support to national companies North America-wide as well as international companies willing to establish in the USA.

To support this substantial growth on the market, the Group relies on the high quality education in the country. Amaris indeed intends to hire both engineers and managers, having international or local academic background.

The US customers will also benefit from the acceleration of the development of a research centre in pharmaco-economics and market access.

Thanks to its presence round-the-clock, its teams of highly trained experts and its complete service offer, Amaris targets to be a privileged partner of companies in the area.
